Supporting sustainable development goals

The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs) are a set of 17 urgent calls to action for all countries to band together in global partnership to promote prosperity while protecting the planet.

LGM recognizes these goals, embedding them in our mandate in the form of Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) and corresponding projects to help move the needle on these important areas. While LGM understands all of the UN SDGs are important, the following goals align particularly well to our purpose.

Gender equality (SDG 5):

Equity is embedded in our hiring practices, leadership development, and company culture. We actively work to create a diverse and inclusive workplace by implementing fair hiring policies, providing educational opportunities on gender equity, and reinforcing our commitment to a workplace where all employees are empowered to succeed.

Climate action (SDG 13):

LGM is actively working to reduce its environmental impact by investing in sustainable business practices. From reducing corporate travel emissions to optimizing energy use in our offices, to employee EV incentives, we are committed to minimizing our carbon footprint and contributing to global climate action efforts.

Reduced inequalities (SDG 10):

We strive to create an inclusive workplace that promotes equity and respect. Through awareness initiatives, employee education, and inclusive policies, we work to break down systemic barriers and ensure that all employees, regardless of background, feel valued and supported.

Decent work and economic growth (SDG 8):

As a Canadian employer, we contribute to national economic growth by providing quality jobs and fostering career development opportunities. Our business strategies focus on long-term sustainability, profitability, and employee empowerment, ensuring that our organization remains a responsible and resilient contributor to the economy.

Affordable and clean energy (SDG 7):

LGM is committed to reducing our environmental footprint through targeted actions including: reducing its environmental footprint by optimizing office space, cutting travel, promoting EV commuting, and improving energy efficiency across operations.

By embedding these SDGs into our corporate strategy, LGM is dedicated to making a positive and measurable impact—both within our company and beyond.

Reinforcing trust through transparent practices

LGM is dedicated to transparency and accountability, submitting an annual Communication on Progress (CoP) to the UN Global Compact and sharing it with our partners and employees. To enhance the clarity and effectiveness of our reporting, we participated in a peer learning group, gaining valuable insights to refine our approach. Additionally, we developed and distributed our annual year in review, highlighting key performance metrics and milestones.

Empowering collaboration with stakeholders

We believe meaningful progress is achieved through collaboration. By actively engaging employees in our sustainability initiatives, we ensure they are both inclusive and impactful. Open dialogue and continuous feedback are central to our strategy, fostering a culture where every voice contributes to driving positive change.

Social Responsibility

MILESTONES

Progress in action

2024 marked a pivotal year in advancing LGM Financial Services' social purpose initiatives. It was also a time for introspection—assessing how we measure and hold ourselves accountable to the values that matter most.

Environmental sustainability

GHG report

We completed our Fiscal 2023 Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Inventory* which was conducted in partnership with Carbonzero, a Canadian leader in GHG measurement, reduction, and carbon offsetting solutions. The completion of the project represents a key milestone in our ongoing sustainability efforts, showcasing a substantial reduction in overall carbon emissions since the firm's previous inventory. This includes an impressive 88% decrease in corporate business travel emissions and a 65% reduction in commuting emissions. This was achieved by:

- Technology first: Adopting a predominantly hybrid workforce, and a technology-first approach to air travel, has helped LGM cut down on carbon emissions from daily commuting and corporate travel.
- Electric vehicles: Introducing an internal program that offers financial incentives to employees who choose to drive EVs.
- Energy efficiency: Maintaining office spaces in Vancouver and Montreal, which are electrified buildings, resulted in a reduction of direct fossil fuel consumption.

See Appendix A: Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Inventory for more information.*

Environmental programs

While not directly linked to LGM's carbon reduction, the firm has also supported Canadians in their sustainability efforts. By taking a leadership role in promoting EVs and becoming the first finance and insurance provider in Canada to launch EV-specific protection products, LGM aims to boost consumer confidence in this evolving technology. In addition, by reinforcing robust in-office waste, compost, and recycling programs, as well as reducing paper use, LGM continues to work to integrate sustainable practices into the foundation of the company.

Community engagement & support initiatives

- UBC solar initiative: We proudly supported the University of British Columbia’s Solar Engineering Team in their pursuit of advancing solar technology for electric vehicles. This project underscores our commitment to driving innovation in sustainable automotive solutions.
- BCIT collaboration: Partnering with students from the British Columbia Institute of Technology’s sustainable business leadership program, we explored ways to align our practices with the UN Global Compact’s Ten Principles and SDGs. This initiative provided students with a valuable opportunity to apply their knowledge in a real-world context.
- Giving back: Our employees are entitled to four paid days annually to volunteer in their communities, empowering them to support causes that resonate personally. To date, this program has delivered more than 30,000 hours back into community causes.

Governance

- KPIs: We defined and prioritized the Key Performance Indicators most relevant to our social responsibility objectives, setting clear goals for 2025. Additionally, we evaluated our current position to establish a solid baseline for tracking progress.
- UN Global Compact CoP: We submitted our first Communication on Progress (COP) to the UN Global Compact, outlining our commitment to its Ten Principles in the areas of human rights, labor, environment, and anti-corruption. See Appendix B: Communication on Progress to read the report.
- Team & reporting framework: We formalized the Social Purpose Committee, establishing its meeting cadence and reporting structure to effectively track and communicate progress.
- Responsible Vendor Policy: We developed a Responsible Vendor Procurement Policy as part of our commitment to identifying, avoiding, and mitigating potential adverse impacts on human rights, the environment, and labour conditions within our operations and across our value chain.
- Environmental, Social and Governance Investment Policy: In 2021 LGM adopted a policy requiring its appointed investment managers to be signatories to the UN Principles of Responsible Investment. In 2024 LGM managed a restricted assets investment portfolio of over $207 million, and 100% of those funds were manager by signatories to the UNPRI.

Diversity, equity & inclusion

- Fair living wage: To determine a fair living wage, we used the Canadian Living Wage Framework and provincial living wage audits, prioritizing the highest applicable rate. Our analysis focused on living wages across three major Canadian cities where LGM has offices—Vancouver, Oakville, and Montreal. By adopting the highest rate among these cities, we ensure that no LGM employee earns below this standard, reinforcing our commitment to fair compensation.
- Gender & management: In 2024, in alignment with the UN Global Compact goal of achieving gender balance in management, we conducted a comprehensive audit to assess the representation of women in leadership positions within our organization. This evaluation aimed to provide a clear benchmark of our progress and identify opportunities for further advancement toward gender equity in management.
- Ensuring pay equity: As part of our commitment to fair compensation practices, we conducted a salary audit to compare compensation between genders in identical roles. This process involved analyzing salary data across all departments to identify and correct any discrepancies and ensure alignment with our pay equity principles. This analysis reinforces our dedication to fostering a fair and inclusive workplace, and we remain committed to ongoing evaluations to uphold transparency and equity in our compensation practices.

Challenges & lessons LEARNED IN 2024

The year 2024 presented both opportunities and challenges for LGM as we navigated a rapidly changing landscape. These experiences provided valuable insights that will inform our approach to sustainability and operational excellence in the years to come.

Key shifts and adjustments in 2024

- Balancing emissions reduction with business needs: The necessity of in-person engagements for relationship building and brand visibility posed challenges to our emissions reduction goals.
- Navigating regulatory changes: The evolving regulatory landscape in the automotive sector required significant adaptability and additional resource allocation.

Insights gained for a resilient future

- Prioritize innovation: Emphasizing innovation is crucial for effectively addressing emerging challenges.
- Leverage strategic partnerships: Building and strengthening partnerships is essential to sustain progress and amplify impact.
- Strategic timing: The changing dynamic of market needs, global OEM priorities and evolving government influence are in constant flux, and we need to be thoughtful in timing our investments to drive social change.
